

Performing Arts Center

Building The Dream

Agracel's own Cross Pointe Centre Park is the home to Effingham's first performing arts theatre. Agracel took the lead on developing the project after a local business man came to the company with his 15 year dream of operating a theatre in Effingham. This "Branson style" theatre was designed by the renowned theatre architect Brett Butler. Brett has designed many of the theatres that today line Rt. 76 in Branson.

General Building Features

Size: 43,112 sf

Structure: Pre-engineered metal with culture stone and EIFS veneer, slab on grade foundation

Other: Houses 1,556 seats, VIP & standard parking, performance stage with 40' x 25' proscenium opening, radius sloped floor in auditorium, three concession area's, full service kitchen, main & VIP lobby areas, loading dock

